A Family's Commitment to Quality and Service

Founder Earl Smittcamp

For over three generations, the Smittcamp family has grown Wawona Frozen Foods into a fully integrated agricultural operation that includes fruit farming, packing, frozen-foods production and fruit processing. The family's principles of hard work, integrity and innovation are demonstrated daily in the company's customer interactions, plant operations and commitment to sustainability.

Located in California's fertile San Joaquin Valley, Wawona specializes in the growing and freezing of fresh fruits. From orchard to table, Wawona Frozen Foods produces many of America's favorite fruits including fresh frozen peaches, strawberries and unique mixed fruit blends.

The company supplies the retail, club store, foodservice, school and food ingredient industries. Its fruit is found in the nation's largest jam, yogurt, ice cream, pie and pastry manufacturers, foodservice distributors, restaurants, resorts and supermarkets, as well as school lunch and breakfast programs. Wawona ships 125 million pounds of fruit products annually.

Building on its family heritage and upholding the highest standards of food safety with refreshing taste, texture and natural sweetness, Wawona's fresh frozen fruit is as close to nature as possible. You can always count on Wawona for quality, innovation and excellent service.
